

New Courses in Recreation and Sport in Communities, Parks, and Schools

ABOUT

As part of the new Recreation and Sport in Communities, Parks, and Schools minor, students will be able to take 3 new Special Topics courses during the Spring 2019 semester. Each of these classes will explore various aspects and issues related to the recreation, sports, and/ or parks industry

TLS 495A (Section 101 /201: Recreation and Leisure in Contemporary Society

This course will explore the theoretical foundations of, current issues/events influencing, and “what’s next” for recreation and leisure in society

TLS 495A (Section 201/202): Theory and Practice of Coaching

This course will explore the sociocultural context of coaching in the United States and look at trends in coaching across time

TLS 495A (Section 103/203: Admin and Leadership in Recreation and Park Organizations

This course will examine administrative principles and practices as they apply to the operation and management of recreation and park organizations